

Apply here to be authorized for Direct Licensing of Production Music.

When producing and marketing Production Music (see definition below) we ask members to sign a separate application which constitutes an exception to the general assignment of rights made to STIM through the membership contract. The exception allows members to grant their own direct licenses and assume responsibility for monitoring music usage – so called Direct Licensing.

Music works produced and marketed as Production Music are registered in the works database via the website (www.stim.se/mypages) in the normal way – but Production Music works are to be marked as "LIB" in the box regarding "Intended use" when registered.

Direct licensing procedures for synchronization rights and duplication rights apply to Production Music as defined as follows:

A musical work, not commissioned music, which is solely created to serve as a complement (non-exclusively), in audio and audiovisual productions.*

How to apply for permission to license Production Music:

- Complete and sign the following application form.
- Note that all copyright owners must apply together for permission to directly license Production Music (applications are made on separate forms).
- Direct licensing of Production Music applies only to synchronization and duplication rights, not to public performance rights.
- Send the signed application form to STIM, Member Services, Box 27327, 102 54 Stockholm, Sweden.
- We will send you a confirmation that all synchronization and duplication of your Production Music is to be licensed by you directly.

Remember ...

- to mark all music works that are to be Directly Licensed as LIB when the works are registered. Failure to do this will result in the work being wrongly processed via standard invoicing.
- members who produce and market Production Music are responsible for ensuring that all master rights and musicians' rights, (a k a neighboring rights), are authorized.

•  Primarily intended for production companies and similar companies to use as background music in their own audio and audio-visual productions*

• For example, radio advertisements, computer games, TV programmes, etc*

I hereby apply for authorization to license the synchronization and duplication of Production Music. Production Music works will be individually marked "LIB".
